Firearm License and Storage

Secure storage facilities will be available the venue for the duration of the event.
Victoria recognises licenses issued in other States for the purpose of entering a competition.

Extract from Victorian police web site.

Visiting or working in Victoria on a temporary basis

If you hold a firearm licence interstate you can possess, carry and use firearms in Victoria in the following circumstances provided your firearm licence allows you to do the same in your home state or territory:

- Shooting competitions - For taking part in a Victorian shooting competition as a competitor, instructor, referee, supervisor, competition judge or range officer at an approved club or organisation. You may only use a category A or B long-arm or general category handgun. You must carry your firearm licence with you and transport your firearms in a safe and secure manner at all times.

Juniors

Last updated: 14 May 2020

Juniors can obtain a firearm licence in Victoria when they are aged between 12 and 17 (inclusive) but only:

- To carry and use category A & B long-arms, category C long-arms (shotgun only) or general category handguns; and
- In order to receive instruction in the use of firearms or to engage in sport or target shooting competitions; and
- Where they carry and use that firearm under the immediate supervision of an adult with a full licence for the same category of firearm.

A junior licence holder cannot own or store firearms but their parent(s) can apply for a firearm licence to own and store firearms on their child's behalf. Shooting clubs may also loan club firearms out to juniors whilst on an approved shooting range and under instruction.

Victoria Police recommends that licence holders supervising juniors should be within 1 metre of the junior and paying close attention to them in all instances where they possession and/or use of a firearm.
